THE FEDERAL AVIATION Administration, (FAA), ordered detailed inspections of all DC9 jets for possible flaws in the rear section of the plane. The order came down after an Air Canada DC9 lost a tail cone in flight, forcing the plane to make an emergency landing. A FAA spokesman said about 125 out of 377 DC9s in domestic service will be affected by the inspection and if cracks are found, repairs must be made before the plane can fly again. Air Canada, meanwhile, announced that their DC9s will fly no higher than 25,000 feet. Normally the passenger jets fly up to 35,000 feet.

THE HOUSE CLOSELY defeated the Panama Canal treaties which seriously places doubt over how the canal will be operated when the treaty takes effect October 1. The House and Senate will now have to meet to work out key issues. Although the treaty was passed by the Senate last year and will be in effect next month regardless of House action, the House has an equal say in the administrative structure of the canal. A White House spokesman said President Jimmy Carter will make every effort to obtain passage of the treaty.

BETWEEN 300 AND 500 million cubic feet of Mexican natural gas will make its way through U.S. pipelines soon. After two years of negotiations, Mexico and the U.S. have come to terms on the flow of gas to this country, which will amount to $3.62 per 1,000 cubic feet. The gas from Mexico, however, will not affect Michigan gas supplies. While it certainly will improve relations between the two countries, President Jimmy Carter called the agreement "a significant step forward providing a new source of energy supplies" for this country.

AS SOON AS 1985, U.S. motorists may avoid those long lines at the pump by driving electric cars. According to a copyrighted story in the "Chicago Tribune," General Motors Corporation is working on plans to develop a high-powered battery that will allow the auto maker to produce high-speed electric cars in six years. Although a GM spokesman could not confirm or deny the story, it is expected that the auto company will produce between 5,000 and 10,000 electric-powered cars in the mid-1980's.

TERMED AS THE largest demonstration of its kind in this nation's history, about 200,000 protesters gathered in Manhattan to rally against the use of nuclear power in this country. The protesters were joined by rock stars and activists Jane Fonda and Ralph Nader, who urged the crowd to elect an anti-nuclear president in 1980. Demonstrations also were held around the country from Washington State to Vermont, where police arrested 167 persons for unlawful trespass into the Vermont Yankee nuclear plant.

GENERAL MOTORS Corporation's fastest selling cars are creating the most problems for the auto company. The X-car compacts have been known to be responsible for at least nine hood fires and now GM has recalled 225,000 out of the 283,000 built through this August. A steering problem in the compacts also has triggered the recall of 160,000 of the X-car line, which represents the Chevrolet Citation, the Pontiac Phoenix, the Oldsmobile Omega and the Buick Skylark.

Ethnic Festival Highlights Anniversary Celebration

Notre Dame High School will celebrate its 25th anniversary next month with an Ethnic Festival featuring lots of food, games, entertainment and just plain fun. Helping plan the event are, (from left to right), MRS. THOM SULLIVAN of Sunningdale drive, MRS. CHARLES

FARRAR of Stratton place, REV. CLIFTON MOORE, SM, Rector of Notre Dame High School, and MRS. ROBERT PICCIRELLI of Lakeshore road. The event will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 5, 6 and 7, at the school, 20254 Kelly road. (See story, Page 7.)

Schools Eye Mediation In Talks

Initial Meeting between Board, Teacher Teams Slated for October 2

By Susan McDonald
The state will step in next month to help Grosse Pointe teacher and Board of Education negotiators solve their contract dispute. The first meeting between the two teams and state mediator Richard Terepin is scheduled for Tuesday, October 2, at School Board offices. Until that time, no talks are scheduled between the Board and the employee union.

It will mark the third consecutive contract dispute that has been entered into by the state.

Issues Remain
Mr. Terepin also served as mediator during the last dispute in 1976. That contract was settled in 1977 after a state-appointed fact-finder issued a report on Grosse Pointe. The two sides also went into fact-finding in 1973.

The last bargaining session was held on Saturday, September 15. The teachers' bargaining team walked out of the talks at midnight, calling the Board's last offer "unacceptable."

At the last session the Board offered teachers a three-year financial package including a nine percent raise each year. The union had proposed a two-year settlement including 11 and

Innovative Project on Prevention of Blight Along Mack Explored

Gerald Luedtke of Luedtke And Associates Views Plans for Experimental Study with Members of Woods Block Grant Citizens Advisory Commission; Effort to Involve Cooperation of Four Pointes, Detroit

By Roger A. Waha
A study focusing upon the prevention of blight along Mack avenue, involving the cooperation of four Pointes and Detroit, was explored by Gerald Luedtke of Luedtke and Associates Wednesday evening, September 19, at a meeting of the Woods Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), Citizens Advisory Commission.

Experimental in nature, the study, "Mack Avenue in The Year 2000: A Strategy to Prevent Penetration of Mack Avenue Blight," is being financed by an $85,000 CDBG Innovative Projects Program grant, with The Woods acting as the contracting body in cooperation with The Park, City, Farms and Detroit.

The fallacy seems to be when blight is present, then something is done, said Mr. Luedtke. "It's unique for us to try to stop it before it occurs. It's like a cancer for a city. Sometimes it's so far gone, it's difficult to save the tissue."

On Testing Theories
While pointing out that Mack avenue today is viable, Mr. Luedtke noted that commercial blight has now crossed Alter road and is beginning to penetrate the portion of Mack which transverse The Park. Saying this is an extension of the blight pattern in Detroit, he indicated it's now up to Nottingham road.

"We need to stop blight or it will extend along Mack,

(through the Pointes). It will be 20 to 25 years before it covers the rest of Mack," stated Mr. Luedtke. He had earlier said that if the well-established trend of the past 30 years continues, blight should reach Vernier by the year 2000.

Some communities take a small strip and bring it back, he said, while citing The Park's Kercheval Revitalization Project "which could be successful as a transitional area as blight has not gone too far."

Currently preparing the master plan for the City of Birmingham and working as planning consultant for the City of Dearborn, Mr. Luedtke explained to the attentive commissioners that several experimental theories will be tested.

Saying that blight contains several signs including the state of physical disrepair of structures, economic obsolescence and a number of marginal businesses which exist for a short period of time before disappearing, he stated one theory is that breaks in a developed strip commercial area tend to stop blight, e.g., residential complexes, commercial businesses, open areas, et al.

Incinerator Problems Continue

Authority Faces Shutdown Order from State; Emissions Compliance Deadline Runs Out October 1

By David Kramer
For the second time in three months, the incinerator operated by the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority faces a shutdown order from the state.

Authority attorneys hope to once again stall by court action the order, issued by the state Air Pollution Control Commission on Tuesday, September 18.

The current court-ordered extension of the emissions compliance deadline runs out Monday, October 1.

In its 6-4 decision, the commission, "took exception to the findings of a state hearing examiner who had recommended that the authority be granted a two-year extension until new control devices could be installed at the plant."

Takes Exception
If the authority is unable to obtain another extension, it would be forced to revert to landfill operations, adding considerable transport cost increases to its waste disposal costs, already one of the highest in Michigan.

The incinerator is one of only three in the state.

Rick Johns, a regional engineer for the Air Quality Division, Department of Natural Resources, attended the commission meeting in Lansing. He said it was not unusual for the commission to go against the hearings examiner's findings.

The air quality staff, and the commission, "took exception" to several findings of the examiner, he said, including the finding that the authority had worked "diligently" towards compliance.

The examiner cited as unreasonable the $3.75 additional cost per person served per year the authority said would be necessary to convert to landfill operations. The commission did not agree that cost was unreasonable.

"The big difference between the Grosse Pointes-Clinton facility and the other two in the state is that it, (the authority), fought tooth and nail from day one against installing additional control equipment," Mr. Johns said.

"I'm sure the commission considered that fact in its decision. The authority pointed its way into a corner on its own."

Juvenile Crime Task Force Set To Be Formed

School Board Trustee Gandelot Agrees to Lead Structuring of Group Which Will Seek Ways to Fill Void Left by YSD; Estimated 200 Citizens Attend Big Meeting

By Susan McDonald
School Board Trustee Jon Gandelot last week agreed to lead the formation of a community-wide task force on juvenile crime that will seek ways to fill the void in services left by the recent demise of the Youth Service Division, (YSD).

The School Board vice-president made the commitment after a two-hour forum on Tuesday, September 18, that was attended by almost 200 citizens.

The forum was organized by the League of Women Voters, (LWV), with the backing of 21 service groups. Its purpose was to "pressure the cities and schools to produce a replacement for the YSD," according to league president Frances Schonenberg.

Draws Relationship
Apparently the forum succeeded in making its point. Mr. Gandelot acknowledged after the meeting that it is obvious "there is strong community support for a re-structured community-wide agency for dealing with youth problems."

He and a group of city representatives present at the meeting heard arguments for the formation of a youth-oriented bureau from three panelists and dozens of citizens in the audience.

Panelists included Michigan Court of Appeals Judge George N. Bashara Jr., Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association President Dr. Kenneth Lentz and Sue Kinnaird, mother of a South High School student and active community leader.

The municipalities were represented by City Manager Thomas Kresbach from Grosse Pointe City, Councilman W. James Mast from The Farms, Councilman Douglas Graham from The Park, Shores Village President Gerald C. Schroeder and Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinks.

Mrs. Schonenberg introduced the speakers by noting that "the Grosse Pointes (Continued on Page 4)

Park Considering Halt To Demonstration House

By Joanne N. Gouleche
Discussion about the house at 1094 Lakepointe avenue, which was a controversial issue several months ago, was considered by the Park Council again—but it was not discussed on future plans for the house.

The council was surprised to learn from City Manager John R. Crawford that the city wants to halt renovation of the house at 1094 Lakepointe as a Demonstration House project.

The city manager said it was the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Board that the house be sold. The house was too high for the project to be considered economically feasible. Those bids ranged from $53,000 to $230,000. (The board is com-

Cable TV Firms Make Final Try

Mega Vision, Cox Strive to Get Nod from Municipalities; Local Councils Set Special Sessions to Further Explore Question

By David Kramer
While several of the Pointes and Harper Woods have all but decided to go with the War Memorial cable television plan, two firms are making a last ditch effort to have the cities reconsider their preferences for a franchise.

Mega Vision Company of Detroit surprised the Farms and Park Councils Monday, September 24, with a revamped offer that would actually give the cities more cash than would the War Memorial's. Its offer is to make the cities, as a whole, 15 percent limited partners in the system.

The War Memorial's proposal, while calling for a 25 percent share of the profits by the cities collectively, actually would return less to them, since Grosse Pointe Cable Inc., (their cable firm), is a corporation, subject to a 50 percent corporate tax before dividends are declared.

Cox Also Competes
In the partnership Mega Vision is calling for, no such tax is present. Income tax alone is assessed to the partners, and cities pay no such tax.

The other firm competing before the councils is Cox Cable Communications, Inc., which has been granted franchises in St. Clair Shores and The Shores. Although not committing itself, Cox hinted it could offer the cities 20 percent ownership of a corporate system.

The Shores was granted a three percent franchise fee, which is taken right off the top of gross revenues. The cities' 20 percent ownership would be an addition to this fee.

The War Memorial's proposal would be an addition to this fee.

On density classification, the plan also encompasses low density, (1 to 5 units per acre), and medium density, (7 to 12 units per acre). While all categories include single-family residential, medium and high density also allow two-family duplexes, terrace and garden apartments, with the high density classification including high rises.

GP Woods Residents Get Wish

Planners Okay Low-Medium Density Designation for Northwest Area, Eliminating High

By Roger A. Waha
"A living, dynamic document" is how several officials described The Woods' land use plan for the year 2000, with the document being approved by the Planning Commission at a special meeting Tuesday evening, September 18, after one key revision.

"This to my knowledge is the first comprehensive land use plan done for the City of Grosse Pointe Woods," observed Brandon M. Rogers, who prepared and revised the document over a two-year period.

Prior to the special meeting, the Planning Commission had tabled action on the plan on June 26 and again on July 24 after northwest area citizens expressed concern over a high density residential designation for their section, (i.e., 12 1/2 and above dwelling units per gross acre).

Over 1,000 Respond
Citizens were particularly upset over any potential proliferation of multiple dwellings in the single-family residential area in the future, along with a related concern over a decline in property values and a possible land use trend within the city which could affect other single-family dwelling areas.

Bruce E. Van Farrow of Brys drive and Dr. Lawrence A. Marten of Hampton road canvassed the city and submitted petitions bearing an estimated 1,057 signatures protesting the high density designation in several locations within the city for multiples, e.g., apartments, town houses or high rises.

One of the six areas listed, (and the only one changed by the Planning Commission), was the northwest area. With an estimated 100 citizens in attendance at the meeting, many of whom were interested in the northwest area specifically, the commissioners unanimously agreed to drop the high density designation for a low-medium density classification, (5.1 to 7 dwelling units per gross acre), which the area basically is today.

Commissioner Paul Rothenburg, via amending his own motion, moved that the commission reexamine the total plan every five years, (including any possible adjustment in density levels), while reclassifying the northwest area from high to low-medium.

Woods Planners Approve Land Use Document

north of Aline drive, from medium, (at first felt to be high), density to low-medium failed via a 4-4 vote. This location was another area listed in the petitions.

Meanwhile, Karl Standley of Aline drive said he had petitions containing 126 names objecting to high density housing in the north section of the city. He said the main objective was to restrict the community to single family dwellings, telling the commission that adjustments in one area of the city will affect other areas.

Mr. Standley added he was disappointed the way everything transpired since the northwest area, expressing some concern over the remaining high density and medium density classifications.

For their parts, both Mr. VanFarowe and Dr. Marten were pleased over the adjustment made in the northwest area.

"In Best Interest" Mr. VanFarowe indicated some disappointment over the fact that citizens in other affected areas, (e.g., south side of Vernier in the vicinity of Fairway lane and north side of Vernier between Marter road and Mack), didn't seek to have their locations changed to low-medium density.

"I felt I shouldn't speak to that," he said, while expressing pleasure over the northwest area change. "I totally support the planning process and it's wise and prudent for the city to be involved in land use planning."

Mr. VanFarowe also pointed out, "The decision made in our area was in the best interest of the home owners and for all the home owners in the city." He felt if the northwest area was adversely affected, other areas of the community could suffer, too.

He told the commission that two major issues face the city including the fact that it's a maturing community, plus the need to provide a "reliable, sufficient tax base now and in future years." Mr. VanFarowe also expressed some concern over the commercial areas regarding potential changes, feeling the document wasn't real strong in solving parking problems, for instance.

(Mr. Rothenburg during the discussion noted the plan contains several prototypes for off-street parking and all should be considered in the future.)

"I'm very happy with the way things turned out," said Dr. Marten. "I'm happy that the character of the neighborhood will not be changed. On re-evaluating every five years, I feel it's a good idea. It will keep tabs on the neighborhood."

"It's a living plan which should be changed when necessary."

Giving It Teeth

For members of the commission, the vote of approval climaxed many hours of work. "It was a long but a worthwhile process, and a plan was desperately needed by the city," said Mr. Rothenburg, while noting the city has an antiquated plan now, (a 1957 document mainly focusing upon Mack avenue, plus other studies).

"If the city is to grow, it needs a living, breathing, dynamic document for its continuing prosperity."

Saying zoning will give the plan its teeth, he felt the commission owed it to the city to keep the plan in the forefront of its decisions.

Commissioner Peter Gilzan stressed that the plan must be a living, dynamic document, saying it's important that officials adhere to the "sound principles included in the plan." He felt it must be continually assessed and updated as the need for change is perceived.

Meanwhile, Commissioner John Kennedy, in saying it was a good plan, pointed out that "very, very constructive compromises" were made at the meeting, (in particularly emphasizing the northwest area change), by the commission in relation to differing viewpoints. "The men who made them were extremely sincere and thoughtful."

For Mr. Rogers, the approval of the plan climaxes one major phase of his contract with the city, with the other being the updating of the zoning ordinance. "It's a mandated requirement in Michigan for city planning commissions once formed pursuant to state law to prepare and adopt a land use plan," he said, while noting, once it's published, (the next step), it must be certified and then will ultimately go to the council and the Wayne County Registrar of Deeds.

He estimated it will take a month to revise the plan before the publishing transpires.

Citing the varied input into the overall planning process from city officials, encompassing all departments, and citizens alike, Mr. Rogers emphasized, "At the stage and maturity of development in the city today, it has to have a public development policy which is adopted so such issues as maintenance codes, Community Development Block Grant funds, street closings and neighborhood conservation, (among others), can be viewed."

This document is needed so it can be read by citizens, developers, et al., toward re-investing in the community, rather than disinvest in it. The city can either go upward with high values, he noted, or become stagnant and decline.

In citing the importance of the plan, Mr. Rogers said it "shouldn't be frozen in cement" nor "should it be changed willy-nilly" but it should be re-evaluated periodically in the future.

Making It Work

To make the content of the plan come alive adjustments in zoning will have to become a reality.

City Attorney George Catlin had made this clear at earlier meetings, saying that the plan may not affect citizens at all or it could be implemented to the "nth" degree via amendments to the zoning ordinance by the council.

To make the plan work, the council would have to amend existing zoning ordinances all or in part in lieu of the plan becoming only a "nice historical document," said Mr. Catlin. The document itself contains sections on existing land use study, socioeconomic profile, goals and objectives and land use plan, (covering such areas as residential, commercial, offices, public and semi-public land uses, parking and such implementation measures as zoning). It also has numerous tables and maps.

12 percent increases. Spokesmen for both teams say three issues remain on the table — money, layoff procedures and length of the work year.

Prepare for Crisis
Ronald Tonks, chief negotiator for the Board, said his team requested mediation because they believe the talks are at an impasse.

In the meantime, teachers, represented by the Grosse Pointe Education Association, MEA/NEA, Local 1, are staying on the job and "preparing for a crisis," according to president Curt Lange.

A "job Action" (strike) investigation is scheduled by union officials from outside Grosse Pointe, while local teachers are forming committees to assume various responsibilities in the event a strike is called.

The contract with 553 local teachers and librarians expired June 30.

Nordhaus will tell us whether or not it has a complete list of addresses and telephone numbers, he noted, while adding the questions will have to be reviewed by local officials. The letter of explanation will then be sent out and Nordhaus will begin the survey.

The main objectives of the previous survey of the northwest area included aiding the municipality in determining if it qualified for funds under the CDBG program, and how the funds should be utilized.

Farms Denies Net Court Bid

By David Kramer

Although the Farms Council voted 4-2 to allow a Vendome road resident the necessary variance to build a tennis court in the lot adjacent to his home, the city attorney later decided the vote wasn't sufficient to pass.

Dr. Michael Fozo has made two zoning appeals before the council, with the latest being heard at the council's Monday, September 10, meeting.

South Teacher Visits England

By Bridget Janson

For many people, visiting the mother country's rolling hills and fertile valleys is only a dream. However, for John Stephens, an English teacher at South for 11 years, this dream became a reality.

Last February, the Detroit chapter of the English-Speaking Union, (ESU), was searching for a representative to travel to England and tour its schools. The purpose of the trip was to learn about English culture, history and education and to use what he learned to enhance his teaching process.

Mr. Stephens, a tall man with short, dark, wavy hair, and ivory white skin, looked like he was born and bred in Oxford. His bright smile and relaxing personality could easily persuade any member of the selection committee that he was the right man for the job.

On June 9, Mr. Stephens left Detroit and headed for Britain. During his five-week stay he toured many southern cities, Stratford-Upon-Avon, Canterbury and Salisbury were just a few stops.

"Travel in England enhanced my knowledge and understanding of the scope of English history and literature," said Mr. Stephens. "The 'people to people' itinerary was the optimum way for me to become acquainted with Great Britain."

As he toured the schools, Mr. Stephens noticed the difference in the two countries' educational systems. One contrast is the way English students are accepted into college. At the age of 16 one must take an examination. If the pupil passes he is allowed to go to college.

Not only did Mr. Stephens visit schools, but he boarded with teachers and headmasters during his stay and visited many of England's beautiful sights.

When asked what he thought about the overall trip, Mr. Stephens said, "... It was a real adventure. Every day was packed with a thousand sights and sounds. My contacts with the people of England were valuable educational experiences and formed for me the basis of a greater appreciation of British culture."

At that time, the council, after deciding his request for the court had no bearing on the possibility of a future backstop request, voted to allow a variance of some three feet into the front yard.

Dr. Fozo had dropped his request for a backstop, saying he could landscape the court adequately to prevent backstopting away.

Several neighboring residents, including Mrs. Charles R. Moon, objected strongly to the tennis court, saying it would ruin the appearance of the street, where homes are set back much further than the minimum required.

Mrs. Moon's husband is one of the partners in the law firm representing The Farms, Dickinson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip and Moon.

City Attorney Larry Campbell told the council the night of the meeting that the variance request had passed, since two-thirds of those present voted for the motion. However, by the time Dr. Fozo came in for his building permit, Mr. Campbell had further researched the matter, and decided it hadn't, in fact, passed.

The reason, according to city officials, is that five affirmative votes are necessary for the granting of a variance, no matter what. The two-thirds figure applies only if the council has a vacancy.

Thus if only four members of the city council are present to meet as a zoning board of appeals, their actions would be meaningless, even though they constitute a quorum as a council.

Because of the circumstances of the case, a second opinion is being sought on the vote. City officials insist they are not impugning the integrity of Mr. Campbell or Mr. Moon by doing so.

Meanwhile, Dr. Fozo is determined as ever to get his tennis court and "try to get a fair shake." He said he is "very cool about the backstop," since it can be almost as expensive as a court itself, and feels he can do without one.

Besides Mrs. Moon, Fred Sibley, who lives across the street from Dr. Fozo, protested the tennis court plans. Speaking in support of the plans were immediate neighbors George Fern and George Simon. Mr. Simon has a tennis court of his own.

Voting to grant the variance were Councilmen Harry R. Fruehlf, Jack Cudlip, Lloyd Semple and W. James Mast. Those opposed were Nancy Waugaman and Joseph Fromm. Mayor James Dingeman was absent.

The council is scheduled to consider this matter again on Monday, October 1.

The easiest thing in the world to do is to resolve to begin saving money next month.

Kindergarten Moves at ULS

Forty-four ULS (University Liggett School), kindergarten students began the academic year in the Lower School building. Moving from the Early School facility, kindergarten returns to the Lower School where it was located from 1954 to 1971. The move was prompted by the increased enrollment in the Early School.

Three kindergarten sections of 14 to 15 students are taught by Yvonne Stahl, Jean Schwenk and Barbara Kelly with the assistance of Marlene Linthicum. Twenty-three of these children stay for full day sessions.

There are three important advantages to the "new" location of the University Liggett kindergarten. Four and five year olds now have easier access to such facilities as the children's library and the little people's auditorium.

Kindergarten and first grade teachers have an even greater opportunity to coordinate their efforts, and all youngsters benefit from interaction across grade levels.

Drain Tax Falls in GP Woods

The drain tax levy was dropped from 3.2 mills per $1,000 assessed valuation to 3.1 mills by the Woods Council at its rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 10, based upon the recommendation of City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher.

Noting that the operating maintenance of the Milk River Pumping Station 4-increased this year by $48,582.83, Mr. Hornfisher pointed out that during the year the final payment was made for Grosse Pointe Woods Drain No. 1, with the maintenance charge for Girard Drain No. 1 being paid.

Therefore, he said, there was a net increase of $13,248.87.

As a result, the tax could be dropped.

GPW Obtains Insurance Info

The question of liability insurance coverage for the use of a Woods bus for senior citizen activities in the tri-county area has apparently been rectified.

At the council's rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 10, City Comptroller - Assessor Fred erick G. Hornfisher reported that the insurance company told him it would insure the bus for senior citizen trips at no additional charge.

This report ended many weeks of concern on the part of officials and seniors regarding the use of the buses and whether or not the city would pay an additional premium, (depending on cost), or whether it would decide to contract with an outside bus company.

Terre Sutton, a member of the Senior Citizens Commission, who basically waged a one-woman battle to obtain the buses over several years, expressed her appreciation to the council for its effort in permitting the use of the bus for such trips and in exploring the insurance questions.

JCPenney now accepts VISA!

The JCPenney store at 19251 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods will begin accepting Visa cards this week.

Walter Dishman, manager of the store, said that shoppers will now have the choice of using either their JCPenney or Visa cards when they make a credit purchase. He indicated that JCPenney also expects to attract new customers who shop with Visa cards and who do not presently shop in its stores. Like the JCPenney credit card, the Visa card will be honored at JCPenney stores throughout all 50 states.

Juvenile Crime Task Force

And most of the speakers seemed to agree that some kind of special community-wide service is needed for those "problem kids."

Not The Place

Judge Bashara pointed out that the YSD had served as an alternative to Wayne County Juvenile Court and the Youth Home for Grosse Pointe offenders.

"As one who has worked closely in the juvenile justice system... I assure you that Wayne County Juvenile Court is not the place for a person involved in a petty misdemeanor who is in need of serious, one-to-one counseling," the judge said.

Mrs. Kinnaird, a former Youth Home volunteer, told the audience that institution is not the place to send local kids.

"It is awesome to see what kids learn at the Youth Home," Mrs. Kinnaird said. "Our children do not belong there" with the more serious offenders from other parts of Wayne County.

The YSD was disbanded this summer after a dispute over financing and control. It was managed for almost a decade by a board including representatives from the five Pointe municipalities and one from the School Board.

The division handled all cases involving persons under 18 years of age for all the Pointes. In addition to criminal investigations, it conducted a part-time juvenile offender counseling service, public information and Pointe-wide safety programs.

Eyes Counseling

Its $174,812 budget, (proposed for 1979-80), was to be funded by contributions from the cities and schools.

In the absence of the division, each local police department has been forced to take over juvenile criminal investigations on an individual basis. (The Farms has expressed an interest in contracting on an individual basis with The Woods for juvenile investigative services, and The Woods is currently preparing a proposal.)

Most of the city representatives at the forum agreed their departments are doing the best job possible, but added that the YSD is missed.

"There is no question the need is there," said Mr. Graham, "Our police officers are trying to meet the needs of youth caught involved in criminal activity. But our council believes a much greater need for counseling must be met."

But yet another viewpoint was expressed by Mr. Schroeder. He made use of his time on the platform to introduce two Shores public safety officers who were specially trained in handling youth.

Mr. Schroeder said he believes his new "youth service department" will provide "the same service as the YSD... without the added cost."

No Major Void

Mr. Gandelot said the schools also foresee no major void in services because of the loss of the YSD.

He said the increased ratio of administrative, counseling and social work staffs at the high schools will help make up for the loss of the division, and added that "we view school discipline as a school and parent responsibility."

"At the same time we welcome and expect police officers on campus to deal with criminal behavior," Mr. Gandelot said. "We will continue to work with police on criminal investigations."

Personally, Mr. Gandelot said he would like to see some kind of youth service redeveloped in The Pointe, indicating he plans to begin work on the task force this week. Community leaders as well as city officials are expected to be part of the organization.

Free Parking for Seniors Under Study in Woods

A proposed free parking program for resident senior citizens was unanimously referred to the Senior Citizens Commission and the Grosse Pointe Merchants Association for their review and recommendation by the Woods Council at its rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 10.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in feeling such a program would be beneficial to the seniors, presented the proposal to the council on August 20 but it was tabled at that time.

He felt the program would be helpful not only in the moderate cost savings to people on limited incomes, but also would allow seniors additional time for their shopping trips and medical appointments without the threat of an expired parking meter.

Councilman John Sabol on the 10th asked what prompted the proposal, and Councilman George Cueter, representative to the Senior Citizens Commission, indicated that some seniors who park at short-time meters haven't got the wherewithal to do shopping or visit medical offices and return to their vehicles before the meters expire.

Irene Sutton, commission member, told the council she was in favor of Mr. Petersen's proposal, while expressing a concern over the climate of the city. She said she was pleased it also was referred to the merchants association who are interested in the city's climate, too.

As proposed, an application to participate in the program indicates that the parking sticker allows all resident seniors the right to park free in all metered spaces within the city.

The instructions say that the seal should be placed on the lower inside right hand corner of the windshield, with the seal being registered to the owner's present car license number and will be reissued when the citizen receives new license plates.

Only qualifying resident seniors can utilize the free parking privilege, not family members borrowing the car. They are required to pay for all parking.

Time limitations on parking meters do not apply to persons using the stickers, with the seal not allowing the waiver of any other parking ordinance.

City Officials Attend Confab

'Revitalizing Home Rule' was the theme of the Michigan Municipal League's (MML), 81st annual convention held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 12, 13 and 14, at the Hyatt Regency, Dearborn.

City officials from all the Pointes except The Shores attended the conference, which included a panel on public safety described by several attending as very good. That panel was chaired by City Mayor David Robb.

A total of 17 seminars were held during the convention, with city officials picking and choosing between topics ranging from the federal census to disaster preparedness.

Attending from The Park were City Manager John Crawford and Mayor Matthew C. Patterson. The Park officials' total reimbursed expenses were $140.

Officials attending from The Farms included City Manager Andrew Bremer and City Clerk Richard Solak, as well as Fire Chief Warren Schultz, Police Chief Robert Ferber and Treasurer Fleurette Schultz.

The Farms also rented a room at $52 for two nights. Mr. Bremer stated it was used for freshening up and resting between events. He added the normal price for the room was $72.

City representatives were Mr. Robb, City Manager Thomas Kressbach, Finance Director Dennis Foran and Councilman Lorenzo Browning and Jeanette Duffield. The City did not rent a room.

For Woods officials, one room at $43.68 was taken for two nights, (Wednesday and Thursday), at a total cost of $87.36, while another room, at $54.08, was taken for one night, (Wednesday).

Officials felt such an action would give them a better opportunity to discuss problems with other MML members, and attend meetings and other affairs.

Woods officials participating in the confab included Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, Councilmen George S. Freeman, George Cueter, Thomas Fahrner and John Sabol and City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

Mr. Solak said the convention gives city officials from across the state the opportunity to exchange ideas and information about common problems.

Has Dual Role With Big Show

Charly Baumann has a demanding dual role with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, which begins its engagement on Tuesday, October 9, for performances through October 21, at Cobo Arena, Detroit.

Not only does he put 15 Bengal tigers through their paces in the Big Cage, but he also is the performance director of the 108th edition of The Greatest Show on Earth, an assignment which can be more taxing than his encounters with the big cats.

In this capacity, Mr. Baumann is responsible for the smooth running of the show, precision timing in all three rings and the general welfare and harmony of the entire international family of circus artists.

A veteran of more than 25 years of wild animal training and son of a German movie stuntman, he began his career as an assistant groom in a Hamburg circus.

His introduction to wild animal training came when he rushed in to rescue a trainer who was being mauled by a cageful of lions. This spontaneous display of bravery elected him as successor to the injured performer, and his future was decided.

He traveled with European circuses, working first with lions and then tigers. Word of his outstanding tiger act reached executives at Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, and in 1964, Mr. Baumann brought his expertise to this country to entertain American audiences.

Along with his responsibilities in-cage and out, he also breeds Bengal tigers and trains them for his act. In spite of four very close calls and multiple scars inflicted by the big cats, Mr. Baumann is by his own admission "200 percent circus."

He has chronicled his quarter-century of adventures in "Tiger, Tiger," a candid behind-the-scenes look at Circus life.

Tickets are on sale at Cobo Arena Box Office, Hudson's and Olympia Travel in Birmingham. Ticket prices are $7, $6.50, $5.50 and $4.50.

Growth of blight traced Along Mack

As part of an $85,000 Community Development Block Grant Innovative Projects Program, Gerald Luedtke and Associates is currently preparing an experimental study viewing the prevention of blight along Mack avenue. The diagram prepared by the firm shows that blight has crossed Alter road and is beginning to penetrate the portion of Mack which transverses The Park. Mr. Luedtke will come up with several idea books in order to prevent blight from entering The Pointe area. The latter point is the unique aspect of the study—to stop blight before it spreads into the community.

Community Development Block Grant Innovative Project Starts

Another theory is the so-called catalyst node, wherein an area of high capital investment, e.g., the Saint John Hospital, Seven-Mack area, tends to hold the condition of strip areas on both sides for around a half mile in each direction.

Feeling that Saint John facilities would like to establish a top flight medical center, Mr. Luedtke said other such areas must be explored in relation to high capital investments, while citing, as an example, senior citizens housing as a good investment.

A third subject set for study will be the traffic flow along Mack, from the east side of Detroit, through the Pointes and into St. Clair Shores.

"We'll try to program the flow 20 years from now and see how traffic performs," he said. Noting that excessive traffic adds to the potential for blight, Mr. Luedtke stated if traffic becomes more intense, "we would have to look at other streets which might take traffic off of Mack."

In relation to obtaining traffic data, he said a coordination meeting with local city managers and Wayne County officials is planned for next month.

Another concern which will be eyed is the condition of homes adjacent to the strip commercial areas. "A strip becomes blighted ahead of housing and after five to eight years, the housing usually follows. We want to look at about one to two blocks on either side (of Mack) to see how the housing is holding up," said Mr. Luedtke.

When the study is completed around next June, he said recommendations will be made regarding strategic breaks, catalyst nodes, traffic and parking and on the relationship between the commercial and adjacent residential areas.

"We'll also look into the condition of the landscaping of buildings, the appearance of stores and sign control," he stated, while stressing, in a light way, that "the study is not a petunia box type of study where you have such a box every 10 feet. We will conduct a long range type of study."

When asked what were the chances of the study being successful, Mr. Luedtke could offer no guarantees, while citing the sound housing stock of The Pointe and its fine school system. "There are many things in the community which should keep it sound but the spread of Dutch Elm Disease and the loss of trees could make it less desirable," he said.

In pointing out his hope of developing further approaches over the winter, (perhaps up to a dozen), Mr. Luedtke said he also plans on exploring zoning and crime, with ensuing recom-

Church Hosts Missionary to Papua, New Guinea

A missionary to Papua, New Guinea, where people lived a stone age existence until the mid-1950's, will be speaking at area Lutheran churches which support his ministry.

The Rev. Marcus Feld, 29, will be speaking at Saint James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan road, at the 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. worship services on Sunday, September 30.

This is one of a number of area churches of the English Synod Evangelical Lutheran Churches where Pastor Felde will be showing slides and describing his ministry as a circuit advisor for 15 congregations in the far western section of New Guinea.

At one church, Holy Trinity in Livonia, Pastor Felde will be contacting his partners in New Guinea through ham radio.

He will be commissioned for three more years of ministry in New Guinea on Sunday, October 21, in Christ

Lutheran Church, 2411 Iroquois, Detroit, at 4 p.m.

Pastor Felde and his wife, Chris, have been in New Guinea since 1975. They are in a remote region without telephone and where the radio is used for ordering supplies, contacting church headquarters or making arrangements for the weekly plane.

It also is an area where coffee is the main crop and metal axes are used instead of the stone axes wielded for centuries.

He lives in the Lake Kopiago circuit of the Gethunai (Good News) Lutheran Church.

"Our main goal is that the Christian church in our locale shall be able to stand on its own feet," said Pastor Felde.

The aim is to provide structures for the people so their worship may be more indigenous; to strengthen the church/government co-sponsored primary school; increase the literacy and strengthen the church-related education; raise the educational level of evangelists; and provide for some means of income within the circuit to replace subsidy funds from outside sources and to teach budget and finance skills.

An unusual feature of the area, he said, is that although the Christian church came to Lake Kopiago area only 15 years ago, already the evangelized people are reaching out to other tribes.

Pastor and Mrs. Felde are isolated from but near some fighting between people of different tribes, fighting which has been reported in U.S. newspapers. The strife is between the Engas, (referred to also as the people of Wabag), and the people of Mt. Hagen, a principal town.

The fighting usually is a "payback" where one incident of injury can lead to a long series of payback killings.

Although some fighting involves large numbers, it usually is done on the run and involves the use of bows, arrows and axes.

Most of the members of the Gethunai Church are Engas.

"It will be a major challenge of the next few years for this church to see if it can have a role in restoring peace to this troubled situation," says the pastor.

During his visit to the Detroit area, Pastor Felde and his family are living in a parsonage rented from the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. He will be preaching, meeting with various groups, leading a slide presentation and observing the functions of sponsoring congregations.

The churches, for their part, want a sharper focus on ministry in the congregations through Pastor Felde's eyes as well as increasing the support for his work.

Center Plans River Cruise

In the wake of President Jimmy Carter's trip down the Mississippi, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association has scheduled an educational Mississippi River Cruise Tour using the "Mississippi Queen," the new fireproof vessel of the Delta Line.

The cruise tour is scheduled for March 7, the date of the pilgrimage to Natchez with its 200 antebellum mansions and gardens, among which is the Georgian Manor, Rosalie and Stanton Hall.

The tour includes non-stop round trip air transportation from Detroit to New Orleans, transfers and baggage handling between plane and ship in New Orleans and a tour of New Orleans. There are seven nights aboard ship with all meals included.

The cruise of Dixieland is from New Orleans up to Vicksburg and return. On the way up a principal stop is at St. Francisville to visit the Rosedown Plantation and Gardens. On the way back the main stop will be Baton Rouge.

Only very few cabins are still available for the cruise tour. Reservations should be made at once at the Center's office, 32 Lakeshore road, from $849 for twin bedded cabins with private bath.

A handful of Grosse Pointe students were recently notified they have been selected semifinalists in the 1980 Merit Program, an honor that could qualify them for one of thousands of scholarships to be awarded under the program next spring.

More than a million students enrolled in the program by taking the 1978 qualifying test. Semifinalists are the highest scorers in each state, named from the top half of one percent of the state's senior class.

Among the local students honored were Kenneth Deman, Megan Maloney, Robert McPherson, Gregory Rokopowicz, Martin Quinn and Alison Zink, all from North High School.

From South High, Robert Greider, Tracy McCabe, Charles Pear, Scott Schappe, Susan Suminski and Sharon Tavery were honored.

In addition, Catherine Pieronek from Our Lady Star of the Sea School and Michael McKinnon from University Liggett were named semifinalists.

Cable TV Firms Make Final Effort

(Continued from Page 1) posal offers 50 percent of system profits, equally split between the cities as a whole and itself. The other half would go to Teleprompter, Inc., the system manager. Thus due to tax laws, Mega Vision's offer would end up returning slightly more to the cities, but nothing to the War Memorial.

Programming differs very little from each proposal.

GP's Set Meetings

The Park and Farms Councils, faced with the task of digesting and comparing the proposals, decided to put off a decision until further meetings. The Farms scheduled a second special meeting for Monday, October 22, while instructing all three bidders to submit a synopsis stating benefits to The Farms and the community as a whole from their plans.

The Park will hold a public hearing at its November 12 meeting on the cable question.

City residents will have an opportunity to express their views and concerns about the franchises at a special meeting to be held on Monday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The City Council has approved a resolution "adopting in principle" the proposal offered by the War Memorial. The resolution was approved unanimously at its Monday, September 17, meeting after the council heard presentations from the War Memorial and Mega Vision representatives. Councilman William Montgomery was absent from the meeting.

Ready to Bid

The Woods also adopted in principle a resolution to grant the franchise to the War Memorial, setting Monday, October 1, as the date for the first reading of the ordinance. The motion, however, was made contingent upon the measure's adoption by the other three Pointes and Harper Woods.

Mega Vision, whose representatives appeared at the meeting on September 17, also will be granted an opportunity to reinforce their previously presented proposal.

Harper Woods has scheduled its first, (and only), reading of the cable television ordinance with the War Memorial for October 1.

Mega Vision's chief executive officer, C. Thompson Wells of The Park, said his firm, while originally offering no franchise fees to the cities, did offer a 20 percent senior citizen discount fee.

Because of the addition of the three percent franchise fee, Mr. Wells said his firm was now ready to "bid on the system," offering the additional three percent franchise fee and the limited partnership, while maintaining the senior discount, not offered by the other two.

Under the limited partnership system, cities would not be liable for debts incurred. Mega Vision, while putting up no capital, is the general partner, owning 20 percent of the system.

Partners in Mega Vision are personally liable for debts incurred, Mr. Wells stated.

Eyes Same Deal

According to Farms Councilman Lloyd Semple, such a partnership is common in risky businesses such as oil and gas exploration and real estate developments. Investors are attracted by the prospect of only being liable to the amount of their investment, as well as by realizing certain tax advantages. Bruce Burnham, director of financing for Cox, one of the finalists bidding for the management of the War Memorial system, told Farms Council members his firm had offered the Center 20 percent of the ownership in a system.

He hinted Cox would be willing to provide the same amount of financing in addition to the three percent franchise fee.

While the War Memorial plan is to offer a five percent franchise fee, an appeal will have to be made to the Federal Communications Commission, (FCC), for anything over three percent.

Question Raised
 Mr. Burnham said his firm also would be willing to support the cities in any attempt to get five percent of the revenues, but added the FCC doesn't grant many such requests.

Several Farms councilmen thought Mr. Burnham raised a good point when he asked whether it might not be ethical for cities to have part ownership in a system it would grant to itself. City Attorney Larry Campbell was asked to look into the legal implications of such a move.

"Is it a conflict of interest?" asked Mr. Semple. "Should we be regulating ourselves?"

Ferry Parents Begin New Year

The Ferry School PTO will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 3, with president Valerie Kotsonis presiding at 7:30 p.m.

The group will discuss plans for the Friday, October 19, Ferry Family Fest and Ski and Winter Sports Exchange.

After the meeting there will be open room visitations.

Woods Studies Fishing Pier

The question of a combined fishing pier and pleasure boat basin was viewed by the Citizens Recreation Commission again last month, with the group recommending to the council that the question be put to the voters as an advisory vote.

The commission had earlier compared the pier-basin plan with a $275,000 estimate for a 350-foot long, 10-foot wide, pier with hand rails and wood deck. A majority of the commission felt it was best to go with the pier-basin because of the shortage and high cost of commercial wells in the area, plus the income which could be realized from rental.

At the rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 10, the council considered the recommendation and referred the matter back to the commission for proposed language and whether the city should consider going the revenue or general obligation bond route.

The commission felt that the actual question of construction of the pier-basin, including cost estimates and financing method, be presented to the voters at the earliest possible regularly scheduled election. However, officials said it would be too late to have this matter placed on the November ballot.

For the commission's part, it was against an advisory vote because an affirmative response would require a second vote and any delay could be costly.

In May, the commission, after studying a report from the city engineers and a cost estimate for a combined pier-basin, recommended to the council the construction of the pier-basin, 325' by 155', with 38 boat slips at a cost of $450,000.

Members also recommended that the council consider

Woods Church to Host Author

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, will host Bruce Larson, United Presbyterian Church minister, author and television personality, for a one day program on Sunday, September 30.

Rev. Larson is the host of the National Television Series "Search." He is a strong believer in the power of laity and has done research during the past few years on new resources for the church.

He has written 12 books focusing on man's search for self and life's meaning. More than two million copies of his books are in print, including translations in numerous languages.

Rev. Larson's theme will be "Becoming Wholly People." During the Christian Education hour at 9:30 a.m. he will lead a forum on "Loneliness Is A Gift." He also will preach at the 11 a.m. service.

Following a noon luncheon he will conduct a Relational Bible Study Workshop on "Becoming A Whole Person" from 1 to 4 p.m. Registration is necessary for the luncheon and workshop.

For more information, call the church at 886-4300.

Career Center Open to Public

Hours for community use of the South High School Career Resource Center were recently announced by career counselor Teresa Lloyd.

The center, located in the school's Wicking Library, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, will be open on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for "drop-in" visits, and if that time isn't convenient, appointments can be scheduled on any school day between 7:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. by calling 343-2302.

Visitors to the center can learn about their skills, interests, values and work attitudes through the use of a computer career information system.

In addition, the career counseling staff members are able to assist individuals with decisions about their futures and help them to formulate plans to achieve their goals.

Incinerator Problems

But authority manager Edwin Hoover, pointing out the continued operation of the incinerator poses "no health hazard," said, "I don't think anyone could question our good faith in complying with their order." He said the nearest landfill site available is at Mound road and 30 Mile road.

One of the major pollution problems was corrected this month when the new higher stack was connected, only a few days behind the authority's timetable. That project was designed to solve the nuisance problem to area residents known as down-wash—smoke pouring to the ground from a too-low stack.

The other major problem—high particulate matter emissions—is expected to be solved by the installation of electrostatic precipitators. A target date of 1981 is set for their completion.

Authority attorney Charles Townner said that bids have been sent out on the precipitators twice, each time coming back over budget. They are expected to be sent out again soon.

Asked whether air pollution caused by stack emissions was any worse than the contamination problems caused by landfill, Mr. Jones said "that's like comparing apples to oranges," but added that landfill is the technique that's used almost exclusively in the state.

Unclear Issue

Despite all the problems with the state, Mr. Hoover said the authority is "sure we're on the right track with the plant," since new state solid waste guidelines are

KILLEBREW ELECTED

William W. Killebrew of The Shores was elected to the board of directors for the St. Clair Shores National Bank. He is corporate counsel for The Shores, and a trustee for Grosse Pointe Township. The firm of Killebrew and Fraser also represents the City of St. Clair Shores. Mr. Killebrew is director of the Lochmoor Club and has served as its secretary and general counsel.

Advisory Board that the city should discontinue the Demonstration House project in The Park because citizen participation in the low-interest home loan program has had a good response from residents.

"The Demonstration House is no longer needed as a catalyst for the low-interest loan program," Mr. Crawford said.

The council at its Monday, September 24, meeting, tabled both recommendations because of a pending decision on a lawsuit filed by Park resident Arthur Moran, who alleges that the federal government improperly sold the house at 1094 Lakepointe to The Park.

City Attorney Herold Deason advised the council that they should do nothing on the house because the case is still in litigation.

It is the plan of the city to demolish the house and divide the lot between the adjoining neighbors. About $2,000 out of the $50,000 grant has already been used on the house. The remaining monies will be returned to the Wayne County Office of Program Development and Coordination, administrators of the block grant program.

Councilwoman Ann MacDonald was one of those on the council that was surprised to see the city change its mind on the Demonstration House.

"This really disturbs me. I would like a better explanation of why all of a sudden we are dropping the Demonstration House," she said.

It would take at least $50,000 to bring the house up to code and, according to Mr. Crawford, it would not really serve its purpose to demonstrate to residents how they can fix up their homes.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

Perhaps the greatest of the German wines is the Tröckenbeerenauslese. It is a mouthful of a name and a mouthful of a wine. It is made, as some of the best French wines, with grapes that have a covering of Noble rot. Noble rot is a mold which eats through the skin of the grape, lets water evaporate and leaves just the essence for wine making. Grapes with such a mold occur only under very special conditions, especially damp autumn fogs and are often hard to pick. But, wine fans will attest that the effort is worth the taste.

For great taste with little effort, come to PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. You'll find many more people from our bank serving on all kinds of other worthwhile community organizations. Money Market Time Deposits.

It's a unique way to save. Make a deposit of $10,000 or more with us for 26 weeks. You get a very high rate of interest and very high earnings when left to maturity—higher than rates available to individuals on other kinds of deposits. Indeed, no bank or savings and loan institution can pay you more. There are restrictions, however. If you should need to withdraw early, federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty. They also prohibit the compounding of interest, and the annual percentage rate is subject to change should you decide to renew your deposit after 26 weeks.

Each year we've hired two or three high school seniors to work in the Bank. Our co-op students this year, as shown above, are Debra Conlon and Rebecca Ferrari. These energetic young people each put in a minimum of 20 hours a week as seniors at Grosse Pointe North High School, in addition to working another 20 hours a week for us. What we provide is a working laboratory in the real business world—an opportunity for them to become involved, firsthand, in the many facets of banking and finance. In exchange, they perform very real services for us. We're all pleased at the program's continued success. In fact, several of our former co-op students have chosen to make banking their career. We're proud of our long-standing role in helping young people make better-informed career choices.

Many of our bank personnel are personally involved in community service activities. One of our Assistant Managers is Treasurer of the Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe. Center Offers Art Classes

The ancient Japanese Art of Sumi-e will be taught for the first time at the War Memorial's Art School this fall. The instructor is Mary Bowman, who teaches the art form regularly in Farmington and Southfield and will now be teaching this Japanese style mood painting at the Center, 32 Lake Shore road, on Tuesdays, October 2 through December 4, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bowman has her AB in fine arts and studied Sumi-e in Japan under Becca Inada. Each year she returns to Japan for a refresher course.

Sumi-e is basically a simple asymmetrical composition using various dilutions of Japanese black ink with a feather light bamboo handled brush of sensitive rice paper. The class fee is $50 for 10 weeks and about $10 for supplies.

Chair seat weaving, cane, splint and fibre rush will be taught to a limited group on Tuesdays, October 2 through November 20, from 7 to 9 p.m. by Mary Herbert. Students are asked to bring the chair to be worked on to the first class.

Students will be asked to order their own supplies, a list of which will be given out during registration, which should be done in advance if possible. The fee is $35.

Noted international artist and Prix de Rome winner Zubei Kachadorian will instruct at the Center's Art School this fall in "Multiple Discipline" on Thursdays, October 18 through December 13, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Fee for Mr. Kachadorian's class is $70 for eight weeks. Students will work from a life model in all media.

Church Confab To Be Explored

The Rt. Rev. John Walker, Bishop of Washington, and Mrs. William Ludwig of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will report on the significance of the actions of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church recently held in Denver, Colo.

Their report will be given Monday, October 1, at the church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, at 8 p.m.

The issues of major importance at this convention were the final action on the Book of Common Prayer of 1979; an important new beginning of an urban program for all parishes; a debate on action in regard to ordination of homosexual persons; and the program, Venture in Mission, which is a national renewal and fund raising program.

Bishop Walker, a native of Detroit, is president of the Urban Coalition of Bishops and took a leading part in the work of the House of Bishops.

Mrs. Ludwig was a delegate to the Triennial meeting of the Episcopal Church Women, is presently treasurer of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, and has been a member of the Commission of Ministry of the Diocese of Michigan.

The General Convention establishes policy of the Episcopal Church in the coming three years.

Citizens are invited to attend the meeting.

Assumption Has Big Campaign

Father L. J. Carney, Pastor of Assumption Church in Windsor, Ont., recently announced the official opening of an extensive three phase fund raising campaign to renovate Assumption Church.

Designated an historical landmark, commitments from the Ontario Heritage Foundation and Wintario total $120,000. Initial donations and pledges from parishioners and friends represent another $40,000. The Assumption Church share totals $474,872 of the overall $661,225 estimated cost of the renovation.

Individuals, businesses and corporations will be contacted in an effort to attain the goal.

A special effort is planned to reach the thousands of Assumption College graduates, both in Canada and the United States, (including the Pointes), affording them an opportunity to participate in the campaign.

The stately structure of Gothic architecture requires extensive work both inside and out with urgent repair items including electrical wiring, tuck pointing and window re-leading.

A parish team headed by Dr. J. F. Leddy, honorary chairman, Winston Eagen, chairman, and Father Carney are optimistic that parishioners and friends of Assumption will respond favorably to the campaign.

Tax deductible contributions can be forwarded to Assumption Church, 350 Huron Church road, Windsor, Ont., Canada, N9C 2J9.

Corporations and businesses preferring a personal contact can call, in Ontario, Jerry Haggarty at 1-519-256-7929 or in Michigan, Bill Adamo at 1-313-882-6074.

Publishers of mass-market paperback books sold 531 million copies in 1977, compared to 495 million the year before, a 24 percent increase.

St. Clare Series Views Women, Teens, Morality

Saint Clare of Montefalco Church, at Mack avenue and Whittier road, recently announced it will offer a fall series of programs dealing with three very diverse subjects as a part of its response to a Parish Needs survey of a year ago.

Leading off for four Monday evenings, October 1 to 22, at 8 p.m. will be the series "Understanding Adolescents," to be conducted by Sean Hogan, OP, MSW.

Topics to be covered include values, conflicts and improving communications skills, (the rebel who came to dinner — and stayed); discipline through self-regulation, (how to keep the puck at their end of the ice); adolescent sexual development, (the nitty-gritty of today's world); and adolescents and drugs.

Sean Hogan is a psychiatrist. GP Chess Club Names Leaders

The Grosse Pointe Chess Club recently opened its 1979 season with the election of new officers. Elected were president Bob Gault, treasurer Axel Mueller and Metro League coordinator Mark Schmidt. Bill Potter will serve as immediate past president.

The members also approved plans for a Marshall Gambit tournament. The first 11 moves: one P-K4, P-K4; two N-KB3, N-QB3; three B-N5, P-QB3; four B-R4, N-B3; five Castles, B-K2; six R-K1, P-QN4; seven B-N3, Castles; eight P-B3, P-Q4; nine PxP, NxB; 10 NxB, NxB; and 11 RxN, P-QB3 constitute the Marshall Gambit of the Ruy Lopez, which has been played in many famous tournaments.

As of Tuesday, September 25, each participant will have an opportunity to play both colors from the position created by these first 11 moves. This will be the first tournament of its kind to be played at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

Informal play among club members will continue during the tournament. There also will be an opportunity to match wits with the club's Chess Challenger 10, the computer that plays chess.

If you are interested in participating in the tournament or like to play chess, call 888-3228 or come to the War Memorial any Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

social worker in practice with Pastoral Counseling Associates, an east side agency. She is former director of Center Point Crisis Center in Grosse Pointe and is a sex educator in The Pointe area, working with the Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe.

"Conscience And Morality" with Dr. Carl Middleton will be offered on four Wednesday evenings, October 3 to 24, in the Lower Church. Questions such as "What is morality?" and "What is sin?" are to be addressed, along with conscience and conscience formation and moral development for parents and others dealing with youth.

Dr. Middleton is a noted author and lecturer, and is director of Pastoral Care at Saint Joseph Hospital, Pontiac. He formerly served as chairman of the Department of Theology at Saint Mary's College, Orchard Lake.

Six Friday mornings will be devoted to a course in "Assertiveness Training." They will begin October 5 and run until November 9. Objectives are to teach positive behavioral skills, awareness of choice of behavior, learning to set priorities, improving self-confidence, assuming responsibility and developing decision-making skills.

The course will be conducted by two members of Choices, a human resource founded by four Pointe women. The instructors are Sarah Hepburn, MSW, ACSW, a clinician in private practice and former school social worker in Mount Clemens, and Mickey Dietz, Master's candidate in Guidance and Counseling, and instructor and facilitator for workshops in personal growth and human relations.

The evening sessions will run from 8 to 10 p.m., and the Friday morning classes will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Woods Okays Burton Abstract's Request

Burton Abstract and Title Company received the permission of the Woods Council for an occupancy permit to occupy the building located at 19876 Mack avenue in action taken at the rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 10.

As part of the motion of approval, a parking variance was granted, with Building

Inspector Earl Wabaly saying seven and a half spaces were required but "I doubt if they'll get two in there."

However, Jim Monicatti of the company indicated most of the business will be conducted by telephone, while pointing out that a maximum of six people will probably be in the office with two full-time persons during the day.

He also stated that the company closed a previous office in The Woods around four years ago but officials wanted to move from Warren back to The Woods to obtain a better identity with the area and prospective customers. The building was formerly occupied by Treder Pharmacy.

Young Golfers Contend at NH

By Wright Wilson
 This year's North High School golf team is a young one, but that doesn't seem to bother coach Ray Ritter, as underclassmen play an important part in the team's lineup.

Of the eight team members, Paul Quasarano is the squad's only senior. There are three juniors, John Baraglia, Phil Chadwell and Curt Marshall; two sophomores, John Briski and Burke Riechert; and two freshmen, Steve Ciaravino and Alex Roth. Four of the eight compete in matches.

There are 15 matches and one tentatively scheduled tournament for the Norsemen this season. There are not enough teams in the Bi-County League to make golf an official league sport, (five are required), so North's schedule is composed of outside teams.

North won matches over University Liggett and Lakeview last week, but lost to Utica Stevenson, thereby setting its record at 5-2.

Two strokes separated North and Liggett, but North was victorious, 172-174. Marshall was the medalist with a score of 40 in this close victory.

Lakeview was defeated next by North, 225-231. Low scoring honors went to Huey, who shot 42.

Utica Stevenson ended North's winning streak, as Stevenson defeated North Wednesday, September 19, 200-210. Briski was North's medalist this time.

The goal for the team is to qualify for the state meet.

SHS Gridders Lose 3rd Time

By Tom Kiskalt
 South's varsity football team came out on the short end of a tough football game, losing 7-6 to Sterling Heights Stevenson on Saturday, September 22.

The Blue Devils' offense finally got going, and South scored its first touchdown of the season when Ted Formanczyk ran 10 yards for the score. South failed to convert on the extra point attempt.

The score was set up when South had the ball on Stevenson's 12-yard line and was going to attempt a field goal. The snap was bad and the ball bounced to John Heidt who ran the ball two yards for a first down. Then the 10-yard run by Formanczyk gave the Blue Devils a 6-0 lead after one quarter.

South's defense played extremely well with the exception of one letdown in the second quarter. Stevenson scored on a 60-yard pass play, and then made the PAT, which proved to be the winning point.

The Blue Devils, now 0-3, will seek their first win on Saturday, September 29, against Mount Clemens at 1:30 p.m.

North Varsity Wins; JV Loses

By Wright Wilson
 North High School's three football teams endured another week of competition, with the freshmen taking on Chippewa Valley, and the JV and varsity teams playing a series with Lakeview.

The varsity squad opened its Bi-County League schedule with a 20-13 win over Lakeview.

Junior Mike Eugenio scored on a 47-yard run and on a 24-yard pass from quarterback Bob Brown, who himself scored on a one-yard plunge.

This was North's second win against one defeat and the varsity team travels to Roseville Brablec Saturday, September 29, for a 1 p.m. game.

The JV, meanwhile, dropped its third game of the season, falling to Lakeview, 24-8. Lakeview scored its touchdowns after taking advantage of Norseman errors.

North's JV offense had a strong third quarter, marching downfield to score on a 25-yard run by Matt Lehmann. The two-point conversion was successful via a pass from Craig Stafford to Tom Van Pelt.

North's ninth graders won their second straight contest of the season, an 5-0 decision on Chippewa Valley's field.

Dave Bergeron, Gene Ingrao and Tim Richardson played well for the tough freshman defense, which has held its competition scoreless in eight quarters of action.

North's scores came in the fourth quarter, capping a scoring drive led by the running of Scott De Claire, Greg Eugenio and Ron Garner.

SH Girls Win Two Perfect Matches

By Lara Measelle
 South High School's girls tennis team remained undefeated as it beat both Stevenson and Mount Clemens in home matches held Thursday and Friday, September 20 and 21.

In the match against Stevenson, the team took every game, winning by a score of 7-0. Outstanding playing came from Paula Riechert, who won a golden first set by taking every point in it.

Liz Wachter, number one singles player, won her match, beating Stevenson, 6-0, 6-0. Both Megan McMahon and Lisa Micou earned South points by taking every game in their matches. South's doubles teams of Lee Robinson and Nancy Wright, Tracy Echlin and Linda Murlagh and Sharon Ruwart and Laura Hackman kept the winning streak going by defeating Stevenson players, 6-0, 6-0 every match.

On Friday against Mount Clemens, South again won 7-0. Excellent performances were turned in by Wachter, Riechert and the number one doubles team of Robinson and Wright, as they won all their matches with perfect scores. These quality performances were followed by the rest of the undefeated team members.

The girls were scheduled to play East Detroit at home Monday, September 24, (after press time). They traveled to North the next day, and hosted Port Huron Northern on Wednesday, September 26.

SH Girls Swim To Dual Victory

By Mark Clark
 South's girls swim team splashed to victory in the first dual meet of the season as they beat Dearborn Edsel Ford 105-67 at North.

Led by Lara Measelle's double victories in the 50- and 100-yard freestyles in 2:5.4 and 59.1, respectively, South won eight of 11 events. The Blue Devils started off the meet winning perhaps their best event as Whitney Temple, Julie Robinson, Gina Bartoszewicz and Measelle lost a 2:03.3 in the 200-yard medley relay.

Taking the 400-yard freestyle relay were Kathy Erley, Sara McCloud, Maureen Cross and Bartoszewicz in 4:05.9.

Other winners for South were Cross in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:10.0, Erley in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:06.8, Semple in the 100-yard backstroke in 1:08.7 and McCloud with a 1:11.9 in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Lori Gieseke, a member of South's young diving team, took second place.

South was scheduled to meet Mercy High School Tuesday, September 25.

JV at South Blanked, 21-0

By Joe Srebernaak
 South's JV football team lost to the Sterling Heights Stevenson Titans, 21-0, on Thursday, September 20. Their season record is now 0-2-1.

In the first quarter, Stevenson opened the scoring with a 25 yard touchdown pass. On the conversion attempt, South was penalized for holding, moving the ball halfway to the goal line and giving the Titans another try. Stevenson's second two-point conversion was successful on a screen pass.

With less than a minute left in the half, Eric McMichaels intercepted a Stevenson pass on South's two-yard line to kill another Titan drive.

In the second half South fumbled at about its 20-yard line and Stevenson recovered. The Titans took it in, increasing their lead to 14-0. They missed the extra point, but picked up another touchdown and the extra point later in the half.

In the second quarter, South had a 45-yard touchdown called back for offensive pass interference. It was a questionable call, as the defender appeared to bump the South receiver, Joe Yoit, who then bumped the Titan while he made a fantastic catch and went in for the score.

South's next game, at Mount Clemens, will be on Friday, September 28.

ULS Gridders Suffer 1st Loss

The University Liggett School, (ULS), Knights football team suffered its first loss of the 1979 season on Friday, September 21, succumbing to Harper Woods, 19-8. The loss left Liggett 2-1 for the season.

ULS opened up strongly. After kicking off, the Knights defense held Harper Woods to four yards on their first series and forced the home team to punt.

Liggett then proceeded to march down the field and score on a short burst by Jerry Park. The two point conversion was successful and Liggett grabbed a quick 8-0 lead.

From that point on, however, the game belonged to Harper Woods. Running wide and up the middle, Harper Woods gained five to six yards a crack. They scored on two separate pass plays and had field goals of 30 and 42 yards, the latter being a school record.

Liggett got the ball to the 30-yard line of Harper Woods on four different occasions, but they couldn't get the ball in the end zone.

The next game for ULS is at home on Friday, September 28, against Kalamazoo Burroughs. Game time is 4 p.m.

Liggett Girl Netters Win

University Liggett School's, (ULS), girls varsity tennis team squeaked by Marion High School, 4-3, for its second win of the season, on Tuesday, September 18.

Although both number one and two singles for ULS lost their matches, 10th grader Shelley White, playing number three singles, won in a lingering 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 match. Ann G. Sherer, a ninth grader in the number four singles position, defeated her Marion opponent by a score of 6-3, 7-5.

The doubles teams for Liggett won two out of three of their matches. A senior, Julie Doerer, and her sophomore partner, Lisa Peck, won easily by a score of 6-2, 6-3. Eleventh grader Amy Sjolot and 10th grader Laura Barlow also breezed through their match by a 6-1, 6-4 score.

NH Runners Undefeated

All undefeated after two meets are the North High School boys varsity, JV and girls cross country teams.

In its first Bi-County League dual meet races this season, North defeated Lakeview. The boys varsity and JV both posted perfect scores of 15-50, and the girls won by a 16-49 tally. Outstanding for North were Jim Schmidt, Matt Schmidt and Jeff Zupler, who won the boys varsity, girls and JV races, respectively.

On Saturday, September 22, North's runners participated in the Royal Oak Shrine Invitational held at Marshbank Metropark. The girls team recorded its first invitational victory ever, as it led the field with a total of 50 points.

Schmidt turned in a second place spot for the female Norsemen, and was backed up by finishes of fifth from Martha Whittaker, ninth by Jenny Blashill, 11th by Patty Meehan and 23rd by Suzanne Stahl. Others running for North were Kelly Louwers, 24th, and Beth Gudsen, 30th.

Coach J. D. Edwards indicated, "The girls really needed this victory as it will help the team morale. I was happy to see them take it."

Equally successful was the boys side as they won with a 39-point total. Leading North was Schmidt, finishing third in 15:09. The remaining varsity runners finished in two - Wright Wilson and Dan Van Vliet came in seventh and eighth, John Bucacink and John Rosculek finished 10th and 11th and Steve Lugo and Mark Rolain occupied 14th and 15th.

In the open division, North's Dan Hammer led the pack with a 16:08 clocking. Coach Edwards, Schmidt, Van Vliet and North's athletic director Tom Gaukerke appeared on an edition of Ron Cameron's "SportsTalk" show last week on WXYZ-AM, and answered phoned-in questions from interested listeners.

Bid for Courts Receives Okay

A request from University Liggett School, (ULS), to utilize tennis courts at the Lake Front Park was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, September 17.

ULS athletic director Robert Wood said for the first time in the school's history officials have been asked by the state high school athletic association to host the girls' state tennis finals on Friday, October 19.

As a result, Mr. Wood requested the use of the 10 courts from 8:30 a.m. to around 3:30 p.m. on the 19th. He said he would make sure there are at least two adults in charge at all times.

Three motions, including two substitute ones, were made by the council.

The first approved the request and if there were any additional charges incurred, that ULS be billed. Then a substitute motion was offered indicating that ULS be charged $100 to offset maintenance fees, while retaining two of the courts for residential use.

At this point, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen pointed out that the school wasn't planning on charging the city for a sewer easement as part of the northeast relief storm sewer project, and that this should be taken in consideration.

With that, the second substitute motion was offered and approved, permitting ULS the use of eight courts without any charge.

Know Your Schools
By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

This is the time of year when one can hardly read a newspaper or listen to a news broadcast which doesn't have at least one report on the status of teacher contract negotiations in several cities throughout the state.

Since our Board of Education also is involved in bargaining new contracts, I'd like to use this column to briefly explain what is being negotiated and how the process works.

Although our Board is bargaining with the three associations representing the teachers and public librarians, office personnel and plant and cafeteria workers, I want to focus on the negotiations with the teachers' Local 1 to illustrate the collective bargaining process.

In addition to salaries and fringe benefits, many other issues are covered by the contract with the teachers. Factors affecting working conditions such as class size and the number of teaching assignments, length of the school day and the school calendar and provisions for absence are all negotiated as part of the contract.

Covered in the collective bargaining agreement and subject to negotiations are procedures for assignment, reassignment, transfer and reduction of the professional staff; a rationale for disciplining teachers and different types of disciplinary measures; and methods of processing grievances.

Generally, these and many other similar issues are negotiated by teams of five to seven members each. This year the Board's team is composed of administrators from the elementary, middle and high schools as well as the central office.

The teacher's team also is composed of representatives from the different instructional levels, and as a result of the regional affiliation with NEA-MEA Local 1 last spring, has teachers from other Local 1 districts and a Local 1 staff director.

The first bargaining session this year was held in May. As is usually done at the initial meeting, the teams were introduced and reached agreement on procedures, a meeting schedule and general methods of operation.

At subsequent meetings the teacher's team first presented its contractual concerns followed by the Board's team giving a summary of Board concerns and counter-proposals.

In the bargaining sessions which have been conducted up to now a series of proposals and counter-proposals about the issues have been exchanged and several tentative agreements have been reached, although there are still some unresolved items.

The general status of negotiations has been accurately reported in recent editions of the local newspapers and in keeping with "good-faith" bargaining practices, no further comment on the issues would be appropriate in this column.

As indicated in the above-mentioned news accounts, our negotiations with Local 1 appear to be at an impasse. When impasse is reached, mediation is usually the next step. We have requested the services of a mediator.

DEAF RESIST HELP

Hard of hearing people are reluctant to have themselves wired for sound. Some 20 million Americans have hearing loss severe enough to require hearing aids, but only about 600,000 of the devices are sold each year. Moreover, only two million of the deaf are wearing their hearing aids regularly, says an industry publication.

NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on

at 8:00 to hear the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, owners of the premises located at 225 Stephens Road, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a new addition to the rear of their home at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that:

1. the residence located on the foregoing premises is non-conforming for reason that it projects into the rear yard space in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Item 4-A of the City's Zoning Ordinance, no such structure may be erected or structurally altered unless a variance is granted.
2. The proposed addition to the rear of the home located at the foregoing address further infringes upon minimum required open rear yard space of 30 feet, leaving a rear yard of 24 feet, and thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.

The Hearing will be public, interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Officials Unveil Plans for Renaissance Phase II

With a high-ranking Washington official helping celebrate the occasion, a ceremony on Friday, September 21, marked the start of construction of two 21-story office towers at Renaissance Center.

Moon Landrieu, secretary-designate of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, joined 250 Detroit-area business, governmental and civic leaders in a ceremony at the construction site adjacent to and east of the present hotel-office-retail complex on the downtown riverfront.

Representing the second phase of development of Renaissance Center, the Phase II towers are being built by a partnership led by Ford Motor Land Development Corporation, (FMLDC), a subsidiary of Ford Motor Company, and Rockefeller Realty Corporation, a subsidiary of Rockefeller Center, Incorporated, (RCI).

Participating with Mr. Landrieu at the Phase II event were Henry Ford II, chairman, Ford Motor Company, Alton G. Marshall, president, RCI, and Coleman A. Young, mayor of Detroit.

Mr. Ford said, "The Rockefeller show of confidence in the future of this city was one of a string of important announcements here during the past year."

He cited selection of Detroit for the National Republican Convention and the National Hockey League's All-Star Game, both in 1980. He also mentioned the National Football League's Super Bowl game coming to the Detroit area in 1982.

"Since this string of announcements, Detroiters began to believe in their city as they hadn't in years. We are proud of all this recognition, especially that by the Rockefeller organization," Mr. Ford said.

Phase II's glass-enclosed, octagonal towers, similar in design to the present office towers, will include 560,000 square feet of office space, 45,000 square feet of retail space and inside parking for 550 vehicles. The towers are expected to be ready for occupancy in May 1981.

A covered bridge at street level will connect the new towers across Beaubien street with the existing complex so that tenants and shoppers will have convenient access to the facilities of the entire development.

In the new partnership, Rockefeller Realty Corporation will provide the design, financing and building of the new towers. FMLDC, which owns the 2.4 acres on which the towers are being built, will handle leasing and management.

John Portman and Associates has designed the towers, and Tishman Realty and Construction Co., Inc., is building them. These companies performed the same roles in the initial Renaissance Center project.

Renaissance Center's first four office towers, with 2,200,000 square feet of rentable office space, now are 95 percent leased or committed. The 340,000 square feet of retail space is 73 percent leased or committed.

The 73-story Detroit Plaza Hotel at Renaissance Center already has hosted more than 1,700 conventions and conferences numbering more than 700,000 visitors. Between now and 1990, the hotel has commitments for 400 groups of 1,000 or more rooms per night.

Young Pointers Salute Growth of RenCen

Two young Pointers, MEGAN BUTTERLY, 8, (left) and his sister KRISTIN, 5, last week joined in a salute of plans to construct two additional office towers at Detroit's Renaissance Center. The twin, 21-story towers are in the foreground,

TV's Mort Crim Takes Pulpit

Mort Crim, anchorman for WDIV, TV-4 news, will give a sermon on "Living with Risk," on Sunday, September 30, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Mr. Crim's 20 years of television and radio journalism experience include five years as a radio network newscaster and correspondent for ABC New York. He was anchorman on the ABC morning program "News Around The World."

While with ABC, Mr. Crim co-anchored manned space flights from the late days of the Gemini program through the final days of the Apollo moon landing project.

When Neil Armstrong took that "giant leap for mankind" it was Mort Crim's voice which brought the news to millions of radio listeners around the world.

He followed President Lyndon Johnson around the world in 1966 and reported from the Manila Summit on Vietnam and the Latin American Summit in Punta del Este.

Mr. Crim, a member of Memorial Church and resident of The Pointe, also covered many demonstrations and uprisings during the 1960's, including the Newark Riots and the New York City blackout in 1965, for which he won a Sigma Delta Chi award.

In 1978 he received an Emmy award for his reporting of insurance redlining in Chicago and, in 1979, another Emmy for commentary.

In addition to his career in journalism, Mr. Crim is an active church layman and is author of a book about the church in a changing world called "Like It Is."

The public is invited to hear him speak at either service.

Department Head's Salary Eyed in Woods

By Roger A. Waha
A verbal request toward clarifying an action of the Woods Council in January regarding the salary of the city's public safety director was discussed by the solons at their rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 17, 1979.

Hence, some confusion and clarification was needed on the issue, with Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos summing it up by noting the council's concurrence with Mr. Petersen's recommendation in January, the committee's indication of a lesser amount and that the final determination was up to Mr. Petersen.

Either the council would have to rescind its January action or affirm its recommendation at the committee level.

City Attorney George Catlin said the previously approved pay scale would be in effect if the council received and placed on file the matter, or something other than that and July 1, 1979, $32,130. However, the council sitting as the Finance Committee this spring was reported to have set the director's salary at $31,000 beginning July 1, 1979.

Mr. Pinkos also cited the committee's indication of the $31,000 amount to Mr. Petersen at the committee level but that the final decision was up to the city administrator.

For his part, Mr. Cueter said he voted against the retroactive pay concept in January, feeling the minutes of that meeting, indicating his favorable vote, were incorrect. Mr. Petersen said such minutes were approved at the next meeting and should have been corrected at that time.

Don't Blame Your Age For Poor Hearing

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

True, all hearing problems are not alike... and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in the privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. S, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

A chartered bus will leave Grosse Pointe at the peak of the fall color season in southern Michigan — Thursday, October 18, to be exact — headed for Marshall where all aboard, members of Ibex, will enjoy a mini-tour of four private, historic homes.

There'll be gourmet box lunches to satisfy appetites in between stops at the houses, and at a turn-of-the-century schoolhouse, and a Governor's Mansion, and Marshall's famous Hawaiian House.

Sounds like a lovely way to start a new season . . . and we predict, since there are many musical ladies among these talented, energetic women, there'll be more than a bit of singing on the way home.

It's the first Ibex 1979-80 program: a typical activity for this group which always enjoys "something different."

At the annual Ibex meeting in June, at the Lakeland avenue home of Mrs. Charles R. Beltz, new directors were elected. Mrs. Thomas Brandt will serve as president, Mrs. Daniel Bowen as vice-president, Mrs. Donald R. Schrom as treasurer, Mrs. E. B. Munger and Mrs. Francis B. Van Deusen as recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively.

Then there are the committee chairmen: Mrs. Joseph A. Murphy, Jr., house, Mrs. Lawrence Campbell, program, Mrs. Robert W. Chapelle, membership, and Mrs. Bonnie Klein, publicity.

Announce Pro Musica Artist Performers

"We feel that Pro Musica of Detroit's 1979-80 program lives up to our society's commitment to search out artists and composers whose talents are about to earn them worldwide acclaim," says Alexander Sucek, Pro Musica president, announcing the list of performers the society will present in its 53rd season of Friday night concerts.

The season November 9, Schub, winner of the Avery Fisher Award and first prize winner in the 1974 Naumburg Piano competition, was born in Paris and received his first musical training at the age of four.

The young pianist has performed with leading orchestras in this country and Canada. "Powerful technique and musical authority marvelously expressive," proclaimed the New York Times critic after his New York recital debut at Alice Tully Hall.

Musica Camera, a three-member ensemble featuring the clarinet, cello and piano, will be performing February 29. The cellist, Tanya Remenikova, was a favorite pupil of Mstislav Rostropovich at the Moscow Tchaikovsky Conservatoire.

An added attraction that evening will be an appearance by the American composer Bernard Childs, and his trio will include one of his compositions on the program.

Both the Schub and Musica Camera concerts will be presented at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

For its final program March 28 the society has arranged to use historic Orchestra Hall in order to take advantage of its acoustics to

Mary Louise McCarroll to Show New Paintings

Life-long Pointe resident, Mary Louise McCarroll, who received her undergraduate degree from Wayne State University in 1971, continued to study art in Boston and Italy and completed work for her Master of Fine Arts degree at Southern Illinois University in 1975, will be at the C.A.D.E. Gallery in Agnes Street, Indian Village, Sunday, October 7, from 3 to 7 o'clock, for the reception opening her exhibit of recent paintings which will run through Saturday, November 3.

Ms. McCarroll, a member of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association who won an award in painting at the GPAA's 1979 annual exhibition, is a recent graduate who has taught painting with the Continuing Education Program of the Grosse Pointe Public School System and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Her paintings, drawings and prints have been exhibited on a national level and abroad, including the "American Painters in Paris" exhibition.

Gelber to Play Two Concerts

As the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 66th season moves into its second week, Music Director Antal Dorati will be joined by pianist Bruno Leonardo Gelber in DSO performances at Ford Auditorium tonight, Thursday, September 27, and Saturday, September 29, at 8:30 o'clock.

The program includes three works by Beethoven: the Leonore Overture No. 3, Symphony No. 8 and Piano Concerto No. 5.

Gelber, born in Buenos Aires, began to study piano at the age of three. He made his concert debut at nine, and has since toured extensively in Europe and the United States.

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday evening concerts are available at $9, $8, $7 and $5. A limited number of $2 tickets will be available for students and senior citizens at the box office starting at 7:30 o'clock concert nights.

Bruno Leonardo Gelber is the child of a pianist mother of Franco-Italian descent and an Austrian violinist father.

His mother began teaching him the piano, and he made his concert debut with the Orchestra of the Teatro Colon.

Gelber continued his studies in Buenos Aires until, at 18, he went to Paris on a scholarship, becoming a pupil of Marguerite Long.

This experience launched him into a series of successful recitals all over Europe and brought him to the United States in 1967, when he made his New York debut.

Gelber has returned to this country and Europe many times and has been acclaimed a leading piano virtuoso of the 70's. He has played with the most major American orchestras, including the National Symphony both in Washington and in New York.

At his previous DSO appearances, he has performed the two Brahms concertos: No. 1 in November, 1969, with Sixten Ehrling, and No. 2 in January, 1978, with Gary Bertini.

Gelbert recordings have been issued on Seraphim and Connoisseur Society and on Advençasse.

North Mothers Plan Programs

The Grosse Pointe North High School Mother's Discussion Group is an organization designed to assist mothers to find out what's happening at North High through an exchange of information among parents and school personnel. The group meets six times a year, at school and in homes, to hear guest speakers closely connected with North or the Grosse Pointe School System as a whole. Each guest speaks for 10 or 20 minutes, then answers questions. Group members are encouraged to offer their own ideas and views on their own concerns, to provide feedback and assistance for special school functions. All mothers are welcome at the meetings. Further information may be obtained by calling Pat Haug, 886-3896.

Dress for Age And Be Happy

You may long to dress like a teenager, but the older you get, the harder it's going to be, according to a Michigan State University clothing specialist.

Gray hair and wrinkles are two changes commonly associated with the aging process, but additional physical changes can cause clothing fit and comfort problems, reports Isabel Jones, MSU Cooperative Extension Service specialist.

As the body ages, it may become flabbier and lose its shapeliness and firmness. A rounded back and shoulders and a loss of up to five inches in height is normal, Jones says. Other aging characteristics are a thickening of the waistline and a flattening of the derriere. Women also experience a flattening of the bustline as they age.

Michigan State Helps To Save A Rare Bird

There's no emergency room hustle like that we see on television medical shows, but the intent is just the same—to do the right things to save the unfortunate victim.

In this case, the operating room is a 60-square-mile area in the north central part of Michigan's lower peninsula. The unfortunate victim is the Kirtland's warbler: a tiny song bird that is believed to nest only in Michigan and is on the national list of endangered species.

The specialists who are attempting to save its life make up a recovery team of experts from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the United States Forest Service, the United States Fisheries and Wildlife Service and the public sector.

This group is charged by federal law to develop a management plan that could insure survival of the Kirtland's warbler.

Wildlife experts from Michigan State University's Agricultural Experiment Station got into the act when recovery team members decided they needed to know more about the bird's life cycle before solid management recommendations could be made.

"Kirtland's warblers have been observed in Michigan since 1903," says Harold Prince, MSU professor of Fisheries and Wildlife, "but little is known about the species."

"The real push to find out more has come from the national Endangered Species Act of 1973 that set up the recovery team and provides funding for our cooperative studies with the DNR."

Prince's assistant, Elaine Smith, has been the principal investigator for the present Kirtland's warbler study, which is focused on the bird's habitat during its summer stay in Michigan.

"It is clear that the Kirtland's warbler is an endangered species, but we have no good reason as to why it should be," Prince says. "We do know that the warblers have a very specific habitat requirement — tied to jack pine and forest fires — but we don't know enough to speculate on how or why evolution forced the species to take this snipe."

"So Smith's study could provide some vital keys to understanding the environmental needs of the Kirtland's warbler."

"We really know very little about the special requirements of the Kirtland's warbler," Smith says. "We're pretty sure that Michigan is the only place where the warblers mate and nest. We think that they spend the winters in the Bahama Islands."

"We know that they eat insects, but we don't know if they have any food preferences. We know that they build their nests on the ground next to young jack pine trees, but we're not sure why."

"We felt that the obvious place to start learning more is in the critical nesting environment. Reproduction is obviously the key to survival of the warbler, so if we can find out why the birds are so selective in breeding and nesting habitat, we may be able to create new breeding sites with the DNR."

Mid-July Wedding For Miss Varner

John Kern Dalrymples Vacation in Northern Michigan Following Their Summer Marriage; Are at Home in Farms

Officiating at the mid-afternoon wedding of Deborah Jean Varner and John Kern Dalrymple Saturday, July 21, in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel was The Reverend Robert F. Wyzgoski.

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the 3 o'clock rites for which the bride, daughter of Mrs. Faye F. Varner, of Allard Avenue, chose a traditional gown styled with a cap-sleeved bodice of English-net detailed with Alencon lace.

Matching lace appliques accented and bordered the hem of her full, silk organza skirt and chapel length train.

More lace bordered her silk net mantilla, and she carried a cascade of white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis, phalaenopsis orchids, English ivy and baby's-breath.

Jean Frances Varner and Nancy C. Kaess, of Houston, Tex., were their sister's honor attendants. Bridesmaids were Jean Katherine Dalrymple, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Frederick Gillespie, of Kansas City.

Their floor length frocks, of white and pastel green muted stripe nylon chiffon were sleeveless and flounce-hemmed. Yellow and lime-yellow trailing ribbon streamers accented their Colonial bouquets of yellow and white daisy pom-poms and baby's-breath.

Mark M. Dalrymple was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Jack T. Dalrymples, of Ann Arbor.

In the usher corps were James B. Birch, of Ann Arbor, Kevin G. Woods, of Brighton, and Robert Zimmerman, of Southgate.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan and are at home in Grosse Pointe Farms.

The bride, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumna with a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from Wayne State University, teaches in the East Detroit Public School System.

The bridegroom, who holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Eastern Michigan University, is a Certified Public Accountant, associated with Arthur Anderson and Company.

Evinger-Schaffner Rites Read in July

Bride Is Attended by Her Sister And Bridegroom's Sister; Newlyweds Vacation in Northern Michigan

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House was the setting for the reception following the late July wedding of Mary Elizabeth Schaffner and David Stephen Evinger.

The couple, who vacationed in northern Michigan, are now at home in Minneapolis, Minn., where both will practice law.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin J. Schaffner, of Whittier road, chose an ivory colored, three-quarter length dress of Indian gauze, styled with an embroidered skirt and scalloped hem, and a matching blouse with elbow length, slightly-puffed sleeves for the 5:30 o'clock rites at which Father William Petron presided Saturday, July 28, in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel.

She wore baby's-breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of gardenias.

She was attended by a sister, Julia L. Schaffner, as honor maid, and bridesmaid Cindy Evinger, of Bismarck, N.D., the bridegroom's sister, in street length dresses of gauze-type cotton, peach-flowered on an ivory background, sashed with contrasting peach velvet.

Ivy and birds-of-paradise formed their bouquets. Mr. Evinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Evinger, of Mandan, N.D., asked his former college roommate and fellow law student, David Irving, of Glasgow, Mont., to act as best man.

Ushering were Jeffrey Newberry, of San Francisco, Calif., another college roommate, and William A. Schaffner, the bride's brother.

The mother of the bride wore a street length dress of blue and white flowered voile, styled with a crystal-pleated skirt and slightly bouffant overblouse bodice.

The bridegroom's mother selected a street length shirt-waist of pale peach voile.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gilligan, of Marlboro, N.J., and Senator and Mrs. W. L. Gilligan, of Sistersville, W. Va., the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. George Curran, of Independence, Mo., and his uncle, George Evinger, of Los Angeles, Calif.

More were Sue Herdina, of Chicago, Patricia Gaughan, of Cleveland, Jackie Armstrong, of Denver, and Diane MacEachern, of Washington, D.C.

Miss Jensen Wed To John Walters

Bermuda Is Their Vacation Destination Following Spring Rites; They Are Now at Home in Minneapolis

Mary Elizabeth Jensen wore her mother's wedding gown of Chantilly lace and satin as she spoke her own marriage vows Saturday, May 12, in Hammond Avenue Presbyterian Church, Superior, Wis., to John F. Walters.

Lace overlaid her jewel-necked bodice and formed her long, close sleeves, and lace insets accented her full skirt.

Her train was cathedral length. Her veil was hand-fashioned of lace and a single layer of illusion. She carried a replica of her mother's bridal bouquet: a single white orchid, with stephanotis and trailing ivy.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith H. Jensen, of Superior. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Walters, of Bournemouth road, are the bridegroom's parents.

The 5 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Dean Johnson presided were followed by a reception at the Androy Hotel, after which the newlyweds left for vacation on Bermuda. They are at home in Minneapolis, Minn.

In Empire-waisted frocks of pale blue chiffon over pale blue print crepe, with capes falling to mid-arm length, were Kristen Jensen, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Kathy Jensen, their sister-in-law, Jean Middahl and Kathy Leonidas, both of Minneapolis, and Denise Whitney, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Blue pom-pom mums, white carnations and trailing ivy formed their bouquets. Mike Wiener, of Babson Park, Fla., was best man. In the usher corps were Pete Haskell, of Grand Haven, Terry Rice, of Big Rapids, Terry Learmont, of Orland Park, Ill., Bob Bourgeois, of Wauwatosa, Wis., Jeff Jensen, the bride's brother, Paul Neiswander, of Midland, Jerry Meagher, of Minneapolis, and Vic Lammi, of Schaumburg, Ill.

The mother of the bride wore a pale blue, strapless gown, with an accordion-pleated skirt. The bridegroom's mother selected a white and blue gown, with a cutout, jewel neckline and long, close sleeves. Each wore a corsage fashioned of a single, white orchid, and carried a single, long-stemmed rose.

Mariann Russell Is A June Bride

She Speaks Vows in Early June to I. Scott Graves; Dinner at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Follows Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Russell, Jr., entertained in the garden of their home in Fairford road following the late afternoon wedding of their daughter, Mariann, and I. Scott Graves, and preceding the dinner reception that evening at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The candlelight rites were celebrated at 4 o'clock Saturday, June 9, in Grosse Pointe Baptist Church. The Reverend William Taft presided.

The newlyweds returned from a Caribbean cruise to make their home in Grand Rapids where the bride, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumna who attended Macomb County Community College and Indiana's Taylor University, has been associated with the Lake Michigan Mortgage Company.

Mr. Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Graves, of Grand Rapids, is vice-president of Graves and Associates, a commercial building company. Brussels embroidery accented the bride's gown of Italian chiffon, styled with a ruffle-necked bodice of pearled Alencon lace, long sleeves ending in flounced cuffs, and a full skirt.

Brussels lace trimmed her chapel veil, and she carried a sheaf of ivory Fuji mums. Lace ruffles edged the scoop necks and hems of her attendants' sleeveless frocks of ivory voile over apricot taffeta. More lace edged the wide brims of their crownless hats of matching voile over taffeta, and each carried a sheaf of apricot Fuji mums.

Honor matron was Mrs. Robert McClements. Bridesmaids were Lois Faust, Kath-

Best man is Alex Jones, of Portland, Ore. In the usher corps were Richard Karezewski, John Luchese and Gregg and Steven Graves, brothers of the bridegroom, all of Grand Rapids, and Edward Russell, III, the bride's brother.

The mother of the bride selected a gown of Dutch iris blue chiffon and placed purple violets in her hair. The bridegroom's mother chose ice blue chiffon and a corsage of white gardenias.

Kirtland Warbler Study

It has been known for years that the birds nest in jack pine stands that are seven to 20 years old, (about five to 15 feet high). What Smith set out to do was to define in detail actual nesting sites in hopes of finding out why the birds are so specific in their habitat selection.

The area Smith selected for study contained an estimated 35 pairs of Kirtland's warblers, about 20 percent of the total known population, according to Prince.

Current protection guidelines prevent intensive research while the birds are present on the breeding grounds. As a result, Smith had to do her field work in August after the warblers had completed their breeding cycle.

"What we did was to locate the sites where male

Married in June

At a candlelight ceremony late Saturday afternoon, June 9, in Grosse Pointe Baptist Church MARIANN RUSSELL became the bride of I. SCOTT GRAVES. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Russell, Jr., of Fairford road. Mr. and Mrs. Irving Graves, of Grand Rapids, are the bridegroom's parents.

Smith counted and measured the height of the trees. Vegetation on the ground was also identified and measured, and observations on the geometry, (shape) of the vegetation were made.

"One of the things that became clear early in the investigation is that the type of ground cover present is just as important to whether the warblers will nest as is the presence of young jack pine trees." Smith says "It's apparent that the birds key in on the whole ecological system, not just the jack pine.

SHARON STOECKEL, IN HER STUDIO AT THE GROSSE POINTE ACADEMY ARTIST COMPLEX

By Ann Wallace

The use of the word "folk" conjures up visions of country people in our land playing guitar, square-dancing or having a "high-ole-time" tapping their toes to the beat of a hot fiddle. But it is also used in terms of art.

Folk art, or art of the people throughout the generations, is on exhibit as decorative art in Sharon Stoeckel's studio on the fourth floor of the Grosse Pointe Academy Artist Complex.

The studio is filled to the brim with simply gorgeous examples of Norwegian Rosemaling, and other styles of art from Europe, that Sharon has painted on anything that might be found in the home—an old trunk, a metal plate or furniture—the completed works of art collectively termed "decorative art."

Colorful Kitchen
"I just completed painting and decorating 36 kitchen cabinet doors for a lady at her home," says Sharon, who adds that decorative art can also be functional.

It can be used in all rooms of the home on many types of furniture, such as a baby's crib, or on tin, or "tole," in French.

Many examples of this art form can be seen this weekend at the Great Lakes Decorative Art Convention, hosted by Tole Masters of Michigan at the Sheraton Southfield Hotel, located at Nine Mile road and the Southfield expressway, near Northland.

Ms. Stoeckel, past-president of the host group, is chairman of the convention which opens tomorrow, Friday, September 28, when hours will be from 1 to 9 o'clock. It continues Saturday from 9 to 9 and Sunday, September, 30, from 9 in the morning to closing time at 1 o'clock.

Sharon notes that some 30 booths will set up with ongoing demonstrations of decorative art by some 37 teachers from throughout the Great Lakes area. Exhibits of tole, decorative and canvas paintings will be open to the public.

"The results indicate that there is a key ratio between the amount of jack pine and ground cover," she says. "This is generally expressed in the basic pattern of a jack pine, a two-meter space with ground cover, then another jack pine."

"Even though the study is one of the first steps in understanding the habitat requirements of the Kittlind's warbler, like most first research efforts it has perhaps generated more questions than it answered."

"When we compared used areas with intermittent use locations, (males observed singing occasionally), we found distinct differences in the habitat, particularly ground cover," Smith says.

"Does this mean that the males choose breeding ground locations based on the height of the jack pine trees, but the females make a further

"As anyone will see, tole and decorative painting is the painting of the people which can be learned by anyone, given good instruction," explains Sharon.

Technique Is Primary
This teacher believes strongly in teaching technique first, and "not the methods used by many art teachers who may say, 'paint what you feel.' This is very difficult for most students and very discouraging."

Sharon feels that by first learning to perfect techniques of mixing colors and placing them on a canvas, a piece of wood or metal, the results can be most satisfying.

"My students, at all levels of advancement, always go home from a class with a finished work of art."

She adds that art really does "wonders for most people" who attend her adult education art class at the academy. "Sometimes I seem to be running an 'out-patient clinic.' Many people can relieve their anxieties by being creative in an art form."

"I truly enjoy teaching and have had some fine results from many of the students," Sharon continues. They are taught to paint a tiger lily by having it mapped out in advance with spaces marked for various colors.

People have commented that it is similar to "painting by number" but Ms. Stoeckel has found that once a student learns to follow certain guidelines, he/she can develop his/her own talents.

Always an Artist

"It seems I always have had a sketch book in my hands from the time I was a young girl, even when I would be listening to the radio," Sharon reminisces.

"I think television has been a detriment to the imagination of our young people. They sit mesmerized before the tube and don't utilize the vast resources of their minds for creating and developing art for themselves."

Sharon's parents, Philip and Florence Riley, and her grandfather all are involved in the arts. Her mother is a pianist and harpist, her grandfather a "beautiful sculptor."

Sister Julie is an art director for a department store. So art has always been a predominant part of the Riley lifestyle.

"So far, my own children have diversified interests, not especially leading to an art career," notes Sharon.

Michael, 20, is a law student at Ohio State University. Karen, "the Paul Bunyan of the family," is a 19-year-old forestry student at Michigan Technological University.

Different Daughter

"She truly is an outdoors person who loves to play the guitar, in contrast to her sister, Kathleen, a Parcels School student whose biggest concern is what color nail polish to use each day or how her nails look!" exclaims Ms. Stoeckel.

Sharon, a native of Dayton, O., and a Pointe resident for 17 years, attended Ohio State University where she became involved in the history of folk art.

She still is being educated in this art form as she participates in seminars all over the country, especially at the Fletcher Farms School in Vermont where involvement in folk art is shared by many artists.

"It is a casual summer camp for grown-ups where early American and some Norwegian Rosemaling, or decorating, is discussed in detail."

Ms. Stoeckel notes that much of the folk art from Europe was painted in the northern countries, on farms, during the long, cold winters. Artists travelled from house to house, decorating furniture or other household items with motifs specific to certain areas.

A tulip, a peacock or the distelfink, which is a bird motif, or a pineapple would be used throughout the painting, therefore identifying it as having originated in a particular area.

All in The Family
Family history also was painted on dowery chests, birth announcements or cabinets of all sizes.

"Decorative art does not have to be expensive," notes Sharon. "We start out with just a few brushes and paints, adding more as time and talent demand."

"Old lamps or trunks are 'recycled' and any other items that might need to be refinished. We also discuss and refinish the item that is to be painted."

Sharon's students are housewives, retired persons and anyone else who is desirous of being creative and wishes to find self-expression in an art form.

"Decorative art is a happy and giving hobby that is growing by leaps and bounds, due in part, probably, to the difficulties in travelling these days: fuel availability and expense," explains Ms. Stoeckel.

The studio at the Academy, notes Sharon, is extremely peaceful and very conducive to painting, proven by the room being filled to the rafters in the winter time, "particularly as Christmas approaches."

To Teach Teachers
"I am cutting back on the number of hours for teaching adult education this year so that I may teach seminars for teachers throughout the country. I am really anticipating the change very much."

Education will definitely be in evidence at the Great Lakes Decorative Art Convention when demonstrations will be available at all hours. Featured too will be art supplies, books, frames, wood and tinware to decorate.

More information is available about the convention, or membership in Tole Masters of Michigan, by calling Ms. Stoeckel at 885-8634 or 777-7546.

"We encourage everyone to attend the convention," says Sharon. "We all love to teach and demonstrate, no matter what the age."

"Remember, old artists don't die: they just paint away!"

The award annually recognizes a member of the MLA who has made an outstanding contribution to effective and improved library service in a Michigan community — and that's certainly Dr. Booth.

His library career spans 36 years. He's been at Wayne State since 1960, directed its Master of Science Program in Library Science since its inception in 1964, seen almost 2,000 librarians receive their MSLS degrees from WSU.

Dr. Booth earned his own Bachelors degree from Wayne State in 1941. He also holds a Masters degree in Library Science from the University of Michigan (1943) and a Ph.D. from Western Reserve University (1960), both of which have honored him with Distinguished Alumnus Awards.

An Author Among the Lawyers

That new novel, "Winds of Change," that you're all reading, released in paperback by Ballantine Books this July, the love story of Hugh and Catherine who emigrated from Ireland to Michigan's Copper Country, is the work of an author who's at home among lawyers.

She's Marie Louise Nowinson, born in Frankfort, Mich., with roots in a Michigan Centennial family, daughter of the late M. E. Louise, a University of Michigan Law School graduate.

She's the sister of the late Joseph W. Louise, of Our Town, the late David W. Louise, of Berkeley, Calif., of John H. Louise, late of Duluth, Minn., and of Paul J. Louise, who is in practice in Duluth. All became lawyers.

Four nephews, Pointers all, John C. Louise, Paul Louise, John F. Youngblood and the late Joseph W. Louise, Jr., became lawyers.

You get the picture. The legal profession runs in the family, and so does Grosse Pointe. Marie makes her home in Highland Park, Ill., with her husband Richard, (they have a son, Peter), but if she came here it would take her at least a week to visit all the relatives.

There are nieces Mrs. Jeremiah J. Bourke, Mrs. John J. Fannon, III, Mrs. John F. Youngblood and Marcia and Livvie Louise, and nephews Jim and Gregory Louise, not to mention a sister, Mrs. John Nicholas Hoste, who lives in Sterling Heights.

All of whom are very proud of their "author among the lawyers" whose earlier novel, "The Legacy of Gabriel Martel," won a Christopher Award in a national contest.

A World of Enjoyment . . .

. . . is in store for members of the Michigan Circumnavigators Club and their guests when they gather next Thursday at the Detroit Athletic Club for their fall luncheon.

Circum Len Barnes, editor of "Motor News" and a seasoned traveler, will present two films: "Wild River," featuring a white water trip on the Middle Fork of Idaho's Salmon River, and "Triple Crown in Labrador," or how to catch Arctic char, salmon and six-pound brook trout on one fishing trip.

Circum George Pierrot, who will introduce the program, Mort Neff, Tom Smith and other intrepid sportsmen participate in these adventures. Circum Francis Van Deusen is chairman of the meeting.

choice based on the available ground cover due to their initial role in nesting?

"Another item that would be of great interest is to find out exactly what the warblers' diet is. They are believed to be 'generalists,' eating a broad range of insects, but we don't know if there is some tie between their detailed habitat requirements and the availability of food."

"The information provided by this study and by others being conducted by DNR experts is critical," Prince says.

"In the entire breeding area there are no significant amounts of natural, new jack pine stands that could be used by the warblers, and the present sites will be too old within 10 years."

"We need information on habitat to help in the planting and burning programs that are now beginning in an attempt to create habitat for this endangered species."
